TETON MURALS

Local legend credits the painting of the Mountain Murals to a mystery muralist from the 1970s who painted landscape murals on buildings around Tremonton and other locales as well as nearby Cache County. The mystery muralist's work always featured mountains, streams and wildlife, often depicting the Grand Tetons, the famous mountains in the National Park of the same name near Jackson, Wyoming. As the legend goes the mystery muralist was a hippie, who supposedly used his hair to make his paint brush bristles.
